ed States.
The report raised to 17,696 the number of Americans killed so far in the war, the U.S. Command said, and increased to 109,922 the number of wounded. The command said the number of American military personnel in South Vietnam at the end of last week was 500,000, the same figure given for the previous week. Other foreign allied forces totaled 61,000, also the same figure for the previous week. Despite the huge Communist losses claimed since the start of the offensive Jan. 30, the estimate of enemy strength in the country was just what it has been for months: 223,000 to 248,000 military men and 75,000 to 85,000 political workers.

HEARING TESTS SET FOR HEMPSTEAD COUNTY

Free Electronic hearing tests will be given in Hope on Friday, Jan. 19. Anyone that has trouble hearing or understanding is welcome to come for a free test using the latest electronic equipment to determine his or her particular degree of hearing loss. Diagrams showing how the ear works and some of the causes of hearing loss will be available. Visitors can also see how a simple operation on the ear has helped thousands of people to hear again and how the latest electronic developments are helping thousands more. Everyone should have a hearing test at least once a year if they have any trouble at all hearing clearly. Even people now wearing a hearing aid or those that have been told that nothing could be done for them should have a hearing test and should find out about the latest methods of hearing correction. The free hearing tests in Hope will be held at Bill Ellis Ins. Office, 217 So. Main, on Friday, Feb. 16 from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. Mr. H. L. Gillingham will conduct the tests through the courtesy of the

Labor Urges LBJ to Fight With Mills

By NEIL GILBRIDE
Associated Press Writer
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — AFL-CIO political strategists plan to urge President Johnson into an open fight against Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., to win enactment of the President's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

Labor sources believe Johnson income tax bill is dead unless he appeals to the voters over the head of Mills, who is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee and a chief congressional opponent of the proposed tax hike. "Unless pressure is built up in the congressional districts, there isn't going to be a tax bill," said one high AFL-CIO political expert who works closely with Congress and the White House.

"We're going to start giving him hell," the source said of the AFL-CIO's plans to fight Mills in the sense of Johnson's income tax measure. Asked if he thought Johnson might follow suit with a stiff political attack on Mills, the source said, "we hope he will."

Labor sources think Johnson has been too soft on Mills in trying to work out a compromise on the tax legislation. The labor leaders will try to sell this point of view to Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and other administration officials scheduled to speak to AFL-CIO leaders at their meetings here next week.

The AFL-CIO's concern goes far beyond the tax bill itself. The labor leaders are worried about Mills' demands for big budget cuts in federal welfare programs in exchange for acting on the tax measure. "He's trying to undo everything Franklin D. Roosevelt did," the AFL-CIO source said in voicing concern that Congress might cut spending for education, health and housing programs if Mills gets his way.

delegates, but would use the 1965 House apportionment which proponents of a convention claim would do nothing but assure defeat of the convention idea.

Under the Senate bill, each county would have at least one delegate. Such is not the case under the House bill.

Opponents say the Senate bill would violate a U.S. Supreme Court one-man-one-vote ruling. The measure adopted by the upper chamber also would prolong the timetable, requiring the convention to complete its work in July 1970 with the electorate voting on it in the 1970 general election.

The bill prompted a fiery speech from Sen. Guy "Mutt" Jones of Conway. Jones said he saw no need of passing any convention bill until after the people vote in November on whether to hold a convention. Jones said the issue should not be in the special session because legislators "are under too much pressure. He said part of the pressure was from the press. "We're ruled by a pressocracy," Jones said.

Sen. Robert Harvey of Swifton, who handled the bill, said he couldn't understand why Jones had attacked his bill. "I'm beginning to wonder at times whose side he is on," Harvey said. "I wonder why he took this bill, the Legislative Council's bill, and not the administration's bill" to jump on.

The Senate also passed two measures dealing with constitutional revision. One bill would create a temporary Arkansas Constitutional Advisory Commission, which would compile data to be presented to a convention. The other provides $15,000 for the commission's operations.

Rep. Jack Oakes of Augusta, who spoke for representation by each county in the bitter debate Tuesday, told the House Wednesday that it was time to get moving on the convention legislation and that any differences could be worked out by a joint House-Senate committee.

"Until we take action, we will be at a loggerhead and never get anything done," Oakes said. The House responded with a 93-0 vote and instructions were given to notify Rep. Virgil Butler of Batesville of the vote. Butler, a long-time proponent of constitutional revision, fought for the bill earlier in the week but was hospitalized here Wednesday with chest pains. The fireworks in the lower chamber followed as the Department of Corrections bill

$3.5 Billion Dollar Drain From U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department today pinpointed the U.S. dollar drain last year at $3.57 billion—the largest since 1960—and blamed a deteriorating trade picture and devaluation of the British pound for most of worsening. It said the deficit between money spent in other countries by Americans and what foreigners spent here reached $1.83 billion in the fourth quarter of last year—more than the first three quarters combined.

The Johnson Administration has already announced a balance of payments program designed to slice $3 billion from the deficit this year but today was the first time the exact figures had been published. The over-all deficit was the highest since the $3.9 billion drain of 1960.

The department listed two of the major factors responsible for the increased deficit in the fourth quarter as:

1. A $720 million decline in the trade balance from the third quarter stemming from a $560 million increase in imports and a $160 million decline in exports.

2. A $560 million decline in purchases of U.S. securities by foreigners, reflected in the sale by the British government of its assets to defend the pound late in the year.

was brought up for amendments. Eleven amendments were attached to it and six others were either defeated or withdrawn by the sponsor.

However, one by Rep. Bill Wells of Hermitage touched off some brief, but impassive speeches by Wells and Rep. Herbert Rule of Little Rock.

The amendment would permit corporal punishment to be administered under a set of regulations drafted by the Board of Corrections. The punishment would have to be administered by the prison director or one of his designated employees and it would forbid the administering of corporal punishment by trusty guards.

Wells said he did not claim to be an expert or a penologist but that he had more faith in U. S. Dist. Judge J. Smith Henley, who two years ago ordered that a set of rules be drawn under which corporal punishment could be administered.

"We have certain incorrigibles who must be punished," Wells said, adding that he believes this was "more humane than putting them into a hole and depriving them of rations." Rule said Wells had introduced several amendments he could not go along with but that "this one is the last straw."

Israeli Hits Jordan Guns From the Air

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israeli air force jet planes roared low across the Jordan River today to attack Jordanian artillery positions following the shelling of Israeli border settlements, the Israeli army said.

The communique said the jets were called in after Jordanian artillery started hammering the Geshor and Beit Yosef collective farms in the Belsan Valley south of the Sea of Galilee.

The army said artillery and tank fire from both sides continued across the river.

The Israeli army said two other border settlements in the Belsan Valley also came under Jordanian guns. Each side blamed the other for starting the fighting, apparently the most serious in a series of gun duels across the river in recent weeks.

There was no immediate word on casualties. Israeli spokesman said the clash began when Jordanian troops lobbed mortar shells at collective farms and that Israeli troops returned the fire and silenced the Arab guns.

A new outbreak then flared to the north, the Israeli army said, reporting a battle involving artillery and tanks.

A Jordanian spokesman in Amman said the Israelis opened fire with medium arms and tank guns against Sheikh Mohammad village and that Israeli reinforcements moved in and began an artillery and mortar barrage.

Prime Minister Levi Eshkol and Defense Minister Moshe Dayan have issued warnings to Jordan in the past week over the border clashes.

Can Work on Vacations

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia policemen have been invited to work part of their summer vacations to beef up the force in case of urban rioting.

The offer was contained in a memorandum by Police Commissioner Frank L. Rizzo. Under the plan, veterans of 10 years or more can work two weeks of their three week vacations. Men of less seniority can work one of their two weeks. Rizzo said they will be paid in a lump sum at the end of the year after June 1.

developed a plan for providing very, very rapidly any additional communications equipment required by the states. He also mentioned search lights and riot-control agents, such as tear gas. Another source said M79 grenade launchers were among the stockpiled equipment.

There also has been "preplanning for air delivery" of the equipment, Greenleaf said. Local National Guard commanders know, he said, that "all they have to do is pick up the phone" to request special equipment.

Training has been broadened. Several hundred Army, National Guard and police officials are taking week-long special courses in riot control at Ft. Gordon, Ga., home of the Army's military police.

In addition, the Army has supplied Guard units with detailed riot training plans. These include lessons learned last summer in Detroit, Newark and other cities.

Before summer, Army inspectors will personally review units "in critical areas"—those where the potential for violence is greatest.

The Army established at the Pentagon last December a 13-member Special Civil Disturbance Board. The National Guard Bureau beefed up one of its sections and renamed it "The Special Office for Military Support to Civil Authority."

This office has 227 full-time staffers scattered throughout the nation. Besides maps and menus, detailed tactical planning includes selection of routes into urban slums, assembly points and buildings where troops can be housed.

added: "Wherever on the great globe itself the leaders of the people seem inept and their excuses for errors lack credibility, then the national mood of the country turns to frustration and depression. That is the national mood in the United States today."

Chairman Earle G. Wheeler of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, asked by Capitol Hill newsmen if he felt nuclear weapons might be required to defend Khe Sanh, answered: "I do not think nuclear weapons will be needed" in defense of the allied base in South Vietnam where a mass Communist attack is believed imminent.

New Prison Bill to Be Offered

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — John Haley of Little Rock, chairman of the state Prison Board, and a group of legislators worked for 3 1/2 hours Wednesday night drawing up a new prison bill that will be introduced in the legislature today.

Sen. Knox Nelson of Pine Bluff, one of the chief organizers of the new bill, predicted that the new version would pass the Senate.

The new bill replaces administration legislation that appeared headed for trouble. Before the new bill was drawn, Nelson told Haley that the administration's bill could not get through the Senate without being amended so severely that little of it would be left.

Three bills dealing with prison reform already have been introduced in the legislature. The bills would create a Department of Correction to run the prisons and a separate Board of Pardons and Paroles, to establish a state probation system and authorize the position of a commissioner of corrections.

The group concentrated on the largest bill of the three, SB 63, which sets up the new department and establishes the Pardons and Paroles Board.

This bill is the same as HB 78, to which the House attached 11 amendments Wednesday. Some of the House amendments were included in the new bill.

The group went over SB63 word for word after Nelson tried to convince Haley that the best course would be to amend another prison reform bill (SB 69) introduced by Sen. Robert Harvey of Swifton.

The main difference between Harvey's bill and SB63 was that Harvey's measure had no provision for establishing a Pardons and Paroles Board.

Nelson suggested amending Harvey's bill to make it more likely to pass, saying, "a bill of some type would be better than no bill at all." Haley replied: "That's debatable."

Some of the major changes agreed on included eliminating any mention of corporal punishment; deletion of the portion of the bill describing how the governor could remove members of the parole board; and deletion of the section giving the Board of Correction the right to eminent domain and the Department of Correction the right to purchase land.

the other," Peking said. The Pentagon denied several hours later that the second plane had been damaged and Vietnam, "last saw the other. The Pentagon said it did not know how many MIGs were involved.

The Skyraiders were on a ferry flight from Cubi Point in The Philippines to the aircraft carrier Coral Sea in the Tonkin Gulf.

It was the ninth reported penetration by U.S. planes of Chinese airspace. Another Skyraider came within a few miles of Hainan Island only a few days earlier, the Pentagon said, but turned back apparently without incident.

Prison Baby to Be Removed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The chairman of the state Prison Board said Wednesday that a baby being kept by its inmate mother at Cummins Prison Farm will be removed as soon as arrangements are made.

John Haley said the board never approved of allowing the woman to have the baby. Prison Supt. Thomas O. Murton arranged for the woman to get the child, saying the woman had mental problems and having the child would be good therapy.

Vietnamese officials in the course of a trip that has taken him to Moscow and New Delhi as well as Paris.

State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey, asked whether Rusk's totally negative report on the probing covered the Thant and Panfani exploration, replied: "It takes into account everything we know."

"At no time has Hanoi indicated publicly or privately," Rusk said in a statement, "that it will refrain from taking military advantage of any cessation of the bombing of North Vietnam."

President Johnson, who has been kept closely informed of all the exploratory discussions, laid down the basic U.S. position in a September speech at San Antonio, Tex.

He said the United States was prepared to halt the bombing of North Vietnam if that would lead quickly to talks holding some hope of success. He said he would assume North Vietnam would not take advantage of a cessation of bombing to improve its military position.

As indicated by Rusk's statement, the critical issue from the U.S. point of view is some firm word from Hanoi that it would level off or scale down its military activity parallel with an end of bombing of the North.

Hanoi's position, by contrast, has been that the United States must halt all bombing and "other acts of war" against North Vietnam before peace talks can be held.

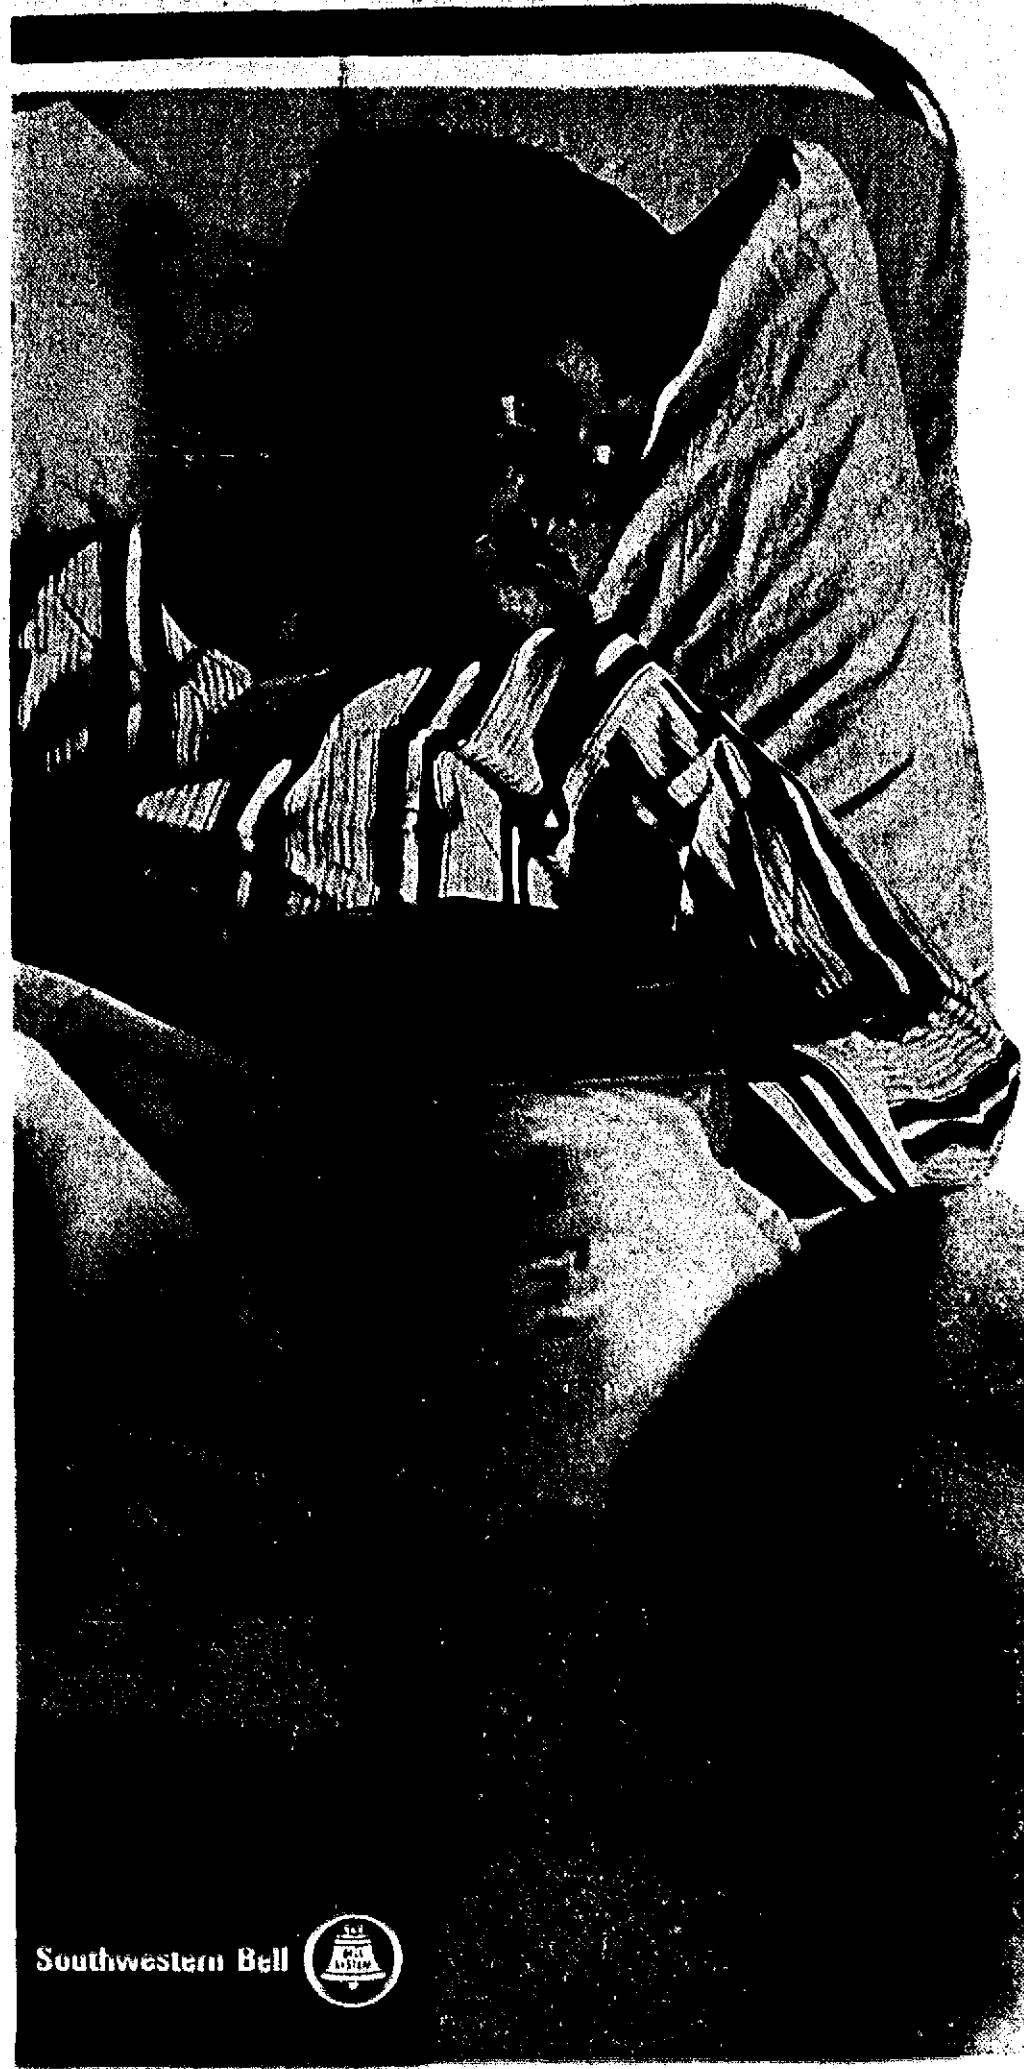

Saying the United States had to take into consideration the massive Communist offensive in South Vietnam and military build-up near the Demilitarized Zone, in assessing Hanoi's interest in peace talks along lines suggested by Johnson.

You say you fell out of a tree and it'll be eight weeks before you're back in school?

Cheer up. Even Tarzan mis-times a leap now and then. And don't give up on your school work. We've made it possible for many shut-in students to attend classes even though they're confined to bed. Our school-to-home service is the answer. It's a two-way communications system that lets the student speak and listen to anyone in the classroom. It's helped many a bright youngster through some pretty gloomy confinements. After all, we've had years and years of practice in developing phone arrangements for special problems. We offer phones for hard-of-hearing people, blind people, people who can't use their hands—phones so kids in bed can be in school. We'll be glad to tackle your problem, too. Just call the telephone business office.

Maybe we can help.

LIGHT-SCHOOL VOWS EXCHANGED

Mrs. Helen Light and William Schooley were united in marriage at the Spring Hill Methodist Church on Friday, February 9 with the Rev. Connie Robins officiating at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride wore a blue silk suit with bone accessories and had a white carnation corsage. Vows were exchanged in the presence of a few friends and members of the families. Music was furnished by Mrs. Brooks Collins, pianist.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schooley entertained with a small reception in their home following the wedding.

The William Schooleys are now at home on Highway 29.

IRIS CLUB MEETS

Tulips, jonquils, and pussy willow made attractive decoration at Mrs. Lahroy Spates' home on Tuesday, February 13 when the Hope Iris Club met there. Dolores McBride, Extension Home Economist, was a special guest, and she showed slides on "Landscape Design," which proved to be of great interest.

"All Green" arrangements were brought by the club members, and in the judging, the winners were: first, Mrs. Owen Nix; second, Mrs. A. A. Albritton; third, Mrs. Floyd Crank.

The Iris Club will be in charge of a morning coffee during the Southwest District Garden Club meeting here February 27, and this committee was named to be in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Claude Agee, Mrs. Harold Stephens, Mrs. A. A. Albritton, Mrs. Floyd Crank, and Mrs. Owen Nix.

Fresh coconut cake topped with strawberries was served with coffee to 13.

BAKER HD CLUB MEETS

The Baker Extension Homemakers Club found it interesting to see how to decorate coat hangers with net and crocheted, which Mrs. Paul Holt demonstrated for the eye-opener at a meeting Monday night, February 12 in the home of Mrs. O. F. Lloyd.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Woodrow Baker, and the hostess based her devotion on passages from the book of Matthew. Mrs. T. B. Fenwick voiced the opening prayer. Mrs. C. G. Tittle gave reports from the offices of secretary and treasurer as well as a Health Report.

Mrs. T. B. Fenwick, Clothing Leader, was the ideal choice for the lesson, "Cleaning Fabrics." She distributed pamphlets with much helpful information on this subject. Mrs. Lawrence Easterling outlined the proposed County Council Budget for the new year, and the president appointed Mrs. Holt, Mrs. Lloyd, and Mrs. Easterling as the Telephone and Human Relations Committee.

The Homemakers Prayer, repeated in unison, concluded the meeting. Cold drinks and cake were served to 9, including one new member, Mrs. George Walden. The March meeting will be with Mrs. Roy Baker.

HINTON HD CLUB MEETS

The Hinton Homemakers Extension Club met in the Patmos Town Hall Monday, Feb. 12 with the President, Mrs. Vardo Hollis, presiding at the meeting.

Eleven members and one new member, Mrs. Benny Waller, answered the roll call to "The Hardest Stain I Have Had To Remove."

Mrs. Monroe Kent gave the devotion from John 17. Prayer leading was by Mrs. Earle McWilliams.

Mrs. Kent presented the lesson on Spot and Stain Removal. She also gave the Eye-Opener, a label hanger. This is a very nice way to keep tags from ready-made clothing and material for ones who do home sewing. Anyone who wants this pattern may contact the Extension office or a club member.

Mrs. Griffin served as hostess, serving cold drinks and chips to the members and three small guests, Devin Lynn Hollis, Stacy Jackson, and James Walters.

The March meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Troy Hollis. All members are welcome.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The evening was scheduled as a tribute to James Stewart, Mervyn Leroy and Mae West. Predictably, Miss West stole the show.

It was one of those annual banquets of the honorary cinema fraternity at the University of Southern California, and the gathering was a curious mixture of the academic and entertainment worlds. Nostalgia was the keynote, and the diners viewed photographs from films of the three honored guests as they were flashed on the walls of the campus dining room.

The program began with emcee Norman Corwin presenting clips from three Stewart films "Philadelphia Story," "Harvey," and "On Our Merry Way." Also a clip from an old Ed Sullivan show in which Stewart sang a number with which he made his professional debut at Prince-

Page Honored at a DAR Luncheon

GAIL TYER

Miss Gail Tyer, who will serve as a page to Regent Mrs. Paul W. Klipsch at the state DAR meeting in March, was the honored guest at the John Cain Chapter, DAR, luncheon meeting Wednesday, February 14 at the Heritage House.

Presenting the program were four American History students of Mrs. Roy Allison — Susan McCain, Jimmy Rogers, Larry White, and Lee Almond. It was entitled "Contributions to American History by the Negro." After Mrs. Roy Stephenson had presented the guest speakers, each one sketched the lives of important Negroes in various fields of endeavor.

Red carnation corsage and bou-tannieres were presented to the speakers, and red gladiolus arrangements were used on the table. The 20 present for the program also included Mrs. John Crafton and Mary Anita Laseter. The latter was presented a beautifully illustrated book, "In Washington, the DAR Story," in appreciation for publicity assistance.

The ritual and business were conducted in a routine manner under the direction of the Regent, Mrs. Klipsch, the chaplain, Mrs. J. J. Battle, and the secretary, Mrs. Joe Keesey.

Hostesses were: Mrs. Lloyd Spencer, Mrs. Floyd Nonzingo, Mrs. L. K. Persons, and Mrs. Robert LaGrone.

The man who wrote the number and persuaded Stewart to go on stage, Josh Logan, joined Vera Miles and Andy Devine in asking Stewart a few desultory questions about his career. The gray-haired Stewart, still boyish of voice, answered politely. He deplored the loss of big-studio training for today's actors.

Leroy's long career was represented by clips from "Little Caesar," "Blossoms in the Dust" and "30 Seconds over Tokyo." The director was interrogated by Greer Garson, Walter Pidgeon and Dr. Frank Baxter. Leroy's message to the film students: "The audience doesn't care about trick camera work — only the story."

Next came Miss West. She agreed to accept the honorary membership in Delta Kappa Alpha if she could do it her way. That's the only way she operates. After the brief scenes from "Klondike Annie" and "Every Day's a Holiday," the lights came up. The platform had been converted into a boudoir with white fur rug, white chaise longue, full-length mirror, candelabra, etc. Miss West, who likes to surround herself with musclemen, had three U.S.C. football players—Adrian Young, Tim Rossovich and O.J. Simpson—huddled around her. The three athletes, unborn when Miss West quit making movies, made their retreat, revealing her to the audience.

All the trappings were there: The three golf-ball diamond rings; the spray of diamonds above the pneumatic chest; the cascade of milk-white hair (a wig?); the undulating figure, more than ample despite tight corseting. In a jeweled white gown. Despite abundant makeup, the face showed its 75 years. But the eyes beneath the upswep lashes were clear, and the voice still had the quality of a small girl playing the vamp.

"I have been honored many times . . . (laughter) for many things (laughter) . . ." Her insinuating manner can still draw amusement from straight lines. The proceedings took a more historical turn as George Cukor and Robert Wise literally sat at her feet and questioned her about the West career. She related her beginnings as a dancer at 8, her authorship of the play, "Sex," and her film adventures in a rambling manner that required much prompting by the two directors.

HELEN HELP US!

SHOCKED AT SMALL TOWN SCHOOL

Dear Helen: I just moved to this small town from The City, and am changing my mind about "wholesome country life."

I was shocked to see all the necking in the school halls. Don't misunderstand. I'm not against love, but open displays of it make me feel crawly. These kids exchange long kisses and snuggle up to each other. They wouldn't get away with it in our city school. Don't you think the kids should wise up and stop being soopy? Holding hands is enough while on the school grounds. Agree? — T.Y.

Dear T: Certainly do! Public necking is crude, juvenile and embarrassing to others. It can be eliminated at school two ways: By more alert teachers; and by general disapproval among the students who count.

Sounds like both sides have been a little lax at your new school. — H

Dear Helen: My sister made a New Year's Resolution to keep the house clean and she is driving me batty. I put something down and bang, it's gone. My books aren't ever on the kitchen bar any more. Our room doesn't seem like home, it's so neat. My mother thinks she's wonderful, which makes me mad, I'll have to admit. How can I get my sister back to normal? — SWEPT AWAY

Dear Helen: I'm the sweet, good little girl who never gets into trouble and is never noticed. That's my image and I hate it. The only way to shake it is by doing something drastic.

Well, now I have the chance. I sit in front of Jim in English. He has the biggest reputation in the Junior Class and he's really cool. He calls me "Snow White." He asked me for a date. I could probably keep him in line, and, just on clever conversation. — H

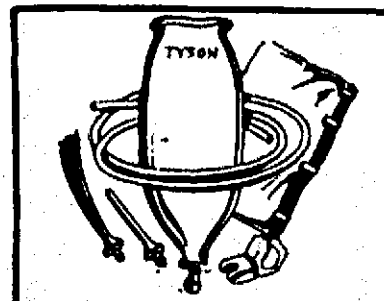

Dear Sweet: Why don't you join her — and give your mother the best year of her life. — H think, if I went with Jim the kids would really notice me! They might even TALK ABOUT me. I guess you think that's stupid, but you don't know what a complex my image has given me. Should I go out with him? May-be we could help each other. He'd get a better reputation, going with a pure girl, and I'd get more human, dating a wild boy. — SNOW WHITE

Dear Show: It hardly ever works that way. If you date Jim, you'll discover the girl gets the reputation and the boy stays wild. You can sizzle down easier than you can climb up — for the bad-dies are anxious to keep you low; makes them feel less guilty, the more company they have.

The "sweet" image is a nuisance. I'll admit, but there are safer ways to change it . . . Like getting noticed for your accomplishments, or practicing up on clever conversation. — H

Hope Girl Applies for a Job

MAGNOLIA — Dorothy Carolyn Hatfield, senior accounting major from Hope, is interviewed by Bill Stanley (center) and Jimmy Lee of the Continental Oil Co. at Ponca City, Okla., in the Southern State College Center Feb. 13 regarding employment possibilities with the company. Miss Hatfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hatfield of 1802 S. Elm and a 1964 Hope High School graduate, is a member of the Association of Women Students at Southern State, where she has served as reporter of Tri C, civic and commerce club, and treasurer of Southern Swingers, college square dance club, Lee, who graduated from Southern State in 1965 and is associate analyst in the computer department at Continental, is from Camden and attended Fairview High School there before enrolling at Southern State College, where he held an academic scholarship and was student photographer.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — They come and they go, the characters and personalities in the television commercials. And when their usefulness is over, they suddenly disappear unloved and unmourned.

Has anybody even missed Wanda the witch who created marvelous hairdos with a touch of her wand? Or that silly dove that lived in a lady's cupboard? Gone, all gone.

Obviously neither of them had fan clubs.

Sales pitches starring magic is going out of style. Just about the only example of real magic left involves that white tornado rolling up such a storm cleaning a dirty corner that the state troopers come to investigate.

Of course there is always the cartoon giant selling frozen vegetables, and now there is also an automobile commercial starring a toy-size car complete with driver which is so tiny a life-size girl picks it up and puts it down. She also establishes a roadblock by placing her compact on the pint-size highway.

There are a lot of current commercials with swiny musical backgrounds and there is a marked vogue for products used by the young crowd to use unusual camera effects. Most disconcerting, however, are the ones that bid for viewer attention by disturbing flashes of light followed by dark on the screen.

For a while this season—some still are around—there were commercials with shock value: The neighbor who grabs her friend's toothpaste and scornfully throws it away while producing a tube of new toothpaste of the same brand. Even Katy Winters, who has spent years patching up people's lives with her deodorant, has been busy urging people to throw away the old stuff and get some of her new good stuff.

Just ordinary folks—ordinary folks like none of us has ever seen—continue to discuss with passion and intensity the length and taste of assorted brands of cigarettes. One offbeat sales pitch stars a very rude, sullen fellow in dark glasses who appears much more interested in getting rid of a pushy girl than in smoking. There is also an amusing commercial—amusing, that is the first couple of times it is seen—suggesting the course of history might have been different had certain prominent characters like Washington and Franklin taken up smoking cigarettes.

Humor plays an important part in commercials these days although whether one warms to Fran's mouthwash advice to the lovelorn or to Madge's clever method of manicuring nails with dishwashing liquid depends, presumably, on the individual's sense of humor. One series of cigarette commercials even takes precious air time to retell old jokes—"I feel like a ham sandwich." "You don't look like one." That, presumably, puts the viewer in a jolly receptive mood.

Generally, there seem to be more commercials these days, particularly short ones. Their tone and quality seems to improve each year. And, according to some of the research people, the viewers' resistance

Romney Sees Situations Developing

By WALTER R. MEARS Associated Press Writer

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — Gov. George Romney said today that "two or three situations similar to Vietnam could develop simultaneously" in the decade ahead and the United States must not spread its power so thin as to render it impotent.

"We must not be impetuous about jumping off to tomorrow's trouble spots," the Michigan governor said in a position paper on foreign policy. "For our resources are not unlimited."

"We must not spread ourselves so thin that we become impotent," said Romney, campaigning for the Republican presidential nomination. "That is what the Communists want."

"We must not spread our time or consume our energies running around on a bucket brigade, trying to put out every fire that comes along," he said. "I believe we are slipping too far into the role of trying to solve all problems."

Romney concentrated on Vietnam in a speech to some 100 people at a Claremont school cafeteria Wednesday night, saying that escalation of the conflict is self-defeating.

"How you can win the hearts and minds of the people, by destroying them and the property you are trying to defend, is beyond me," he said.

Romney called Viet Cong attacks in South Vietnamese cities a setback for the United States, a "tremendous victory" for the Communists. He said they show that Communist support extends beyond the countryside and into the cities themselves.

"One of the things that is seem: to toughen constantly under the repeated exposure.

Ex-Governor, Officials Are Indicted

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)

— State Road Commissioner Burl Sawyers resigned and two other state officials were suspended after they and former Gov. William Wallace Barron were indicted Wednesday on bribery and conspiracy charges.

Sawyers, 55, and Barron, 56, were indicted with Deputy State Road Commissioner Vincent J. Johnkoski, 57, and State Finance Commissioner Truman E. Gore, 56.

Also indicted were Elkins attorney Bonn Brown, 56, and Clarksburg auto dealer Alfred W. Schroath, 65.

All are charged under the federal conspiracy law—conspiring to transport the proceeds of bribery across state lines. Summonses were issued after the indictments were announced ordering the defendants to appear in U.S. District Court Feb. 28.

Sawyers resigned as road commissioner several hours after the indictments were made public in Charleston and Washington, D.C.

"I cannot allow any legal action against myself to hinder the continuing development of our road program," he said.

As soon as he heard about the indictments, Gov. Hulett Smith suspended Gore and Johnkoski. Barron, a Democrat who was West Virginia's attorney general for four years preceding his gubernatorial term which ended in January 1965, issued a statement calling the indictment "part of a continuing effort to harass and discredit me and my administration."

The nine-page indictment alleged Barron and the other five defendants operated a complex scheme in which Schroath established corporations in Ohio and Florida to receive payments from firms seeking to do business with the West Virginia state government.

Among other things the indictment charged that:

— Brown and Schroath represented to various firms that "they could be of assistance in obtaining business from the state... in return for a money payment."

— Johnkoski and Gore "aided and abetted by" Barron and Sawyers, would steer state business to companies which made payments to the "receiving corporations" in Ohio and Florida.

The indictment alleges 25 "overt acts," listing payment of checks, purchase of shares and interstate transportation and mailing of alleged bribes.

needed in Vietnam is an administration in this country that can convince the government in Vietnam to broaden its base and to commit itself to this conflict as much as we are committed to this conflict," Romney said.

"We must not lose the conflict," he said. "We can lose it if we continue to follow the wrong strategy."

He coupled that with another challenge to former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, his rival in the New Hampshire presidential primary, to propose a program for settlement of the war. Once again, Romney said his own proposal for neutralization under international guarantees offers a just, realistic course to peace.

Coalition Controls Committees

By CARL P. LUEBSCH Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Charles S. Joelson's recent blast at the chairman and procedures of the House Appropriations Committee points up the difficulty and frustration inherent in efforts at congressional reform. Joelson, a fourth-term Democrat from New Jersey, is one of the minority liberals on the powerful committee dominated by Southern Democrats and Republicans.

The subcommittees which handle the key domestic programs and most of the giant federal budget are controlled by this coalition. But Joelson, despite ranking 19th among 30 committee Democrats, is last man on two lesser subcommittees—Interior and state-justice-commerce.

Joelson charged Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Texas, has the power to shape committee decisions "in conformity with his own political philosophy" and criticized the secrecy of subcommittee hearings and the way the 51-member full committee rattles subcommittee bills.

Committee members don't always know what they're voting on, he said, especially when it involves something like funds for the Central Intelligence Agency which are concealed in various other budgets.

But Joelson has virtually no chance of changing the procedures about which he complained. He called them archaic and undemocratic.

In fact, the Joint Committee on Reorganization of Congress ran aground with its modest congressional reform bill on shoals consisting of the practices Joelson criticized.

As passed by the Senate, it required that appropriations hearings be open except when they involve national security, information that should be kept secret or matters that might reflect on someone's character.

The bill has been stalemated in the House Rules Committee since last March due largely to opposition by powerful committee chairmen and Speaker John W. McCormack. The first compromise offered unsuccessfully by some proponents eliminated the idea of open appropriations hearings.

Mahon claims the appropriations committee does not have enough facilities to run as many as 10 open hearings simultaneously.

Chairman Tom Steed, D-Okla., of the post office and treasury subcommittee, says he can't get the information he needs at an open hearing.

Transcripts of subcommittee hearings are eventually released, with off-the-record mat-

Tinkering With Time in London

By THOMAS A. REEDY Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP) — They're tinkering with time this week in Britain.

It's one of the most remarkable tinkers since the invention of the clock.

The British government has ter deleted, "but only after the subcommittee in charge has concluded its business for the year and made its determinations," Joelson said.

His other complaint was that committee meetings to ratify bills are usually held a day or so after the subcommittee action and members not on the subcommittee have little chance for detailed questioning.

Mahon sees an advantage in this because agencies and other interested parties are unable to find out the fate of their budgets until the full committee has acted, and thus can't mount pressure to reverse the action.

The appropriations committee is almost always upheld on the floor, partly because members not on the committee usually do not have enough information to mount an effective challenge.

James Marlo, who usually writes this column, is ill.

instructed England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland to move their clocks forward one hour at 2 a.m. Sunday, Feb. 18. And keep them an hour ahead forever.

This means Britain is going on daylight time all year. That means the abolition of Britain's basic time, Greenwich Mean Time.

Clocks, including booming Big Ben at Westminster, will be on what Britons used to call summer time, now British Standard Time.

In the south, it means an extra hour for golf or gardening whatever in the miserable winter months. In the north, it means children going to school in the dark.

Industry, commerce, and government agree the idea is good. Lloyds of London put it this way: "In dealing with Europe, we have always lost an hour. Now we gain it. We shall be on the same time."

Other business areas agreed that Britain's retention of GMT always was a handicap.

One industrial spokesman said: "When we were on GMT, we were one hour behind Europe. That put us one hour behind them every morning in doing business. At the end of the day, when it was 6 o'clock here and we had business to do, it was past closing time in Europe, so in fact we lost two hours, not one, every day. Chop out lunch time and we were on something like a four-hour day." The idea behind this, as far as the government is concerned, suggests that Britain is taking a step toward integration in the Common Market.

Thursday, February 15, 1968

GMT goes back to Greenwich, part of London, where Edward VIII, Mary Queen of Scots and Elizabeth I were born.

The Danes really set it up in the 11th century after bashing Ethelred the Unready around. It remained for Charles II to create the Greenwich Observatory, at zero longitude, which decided what time it was.

From this time forward, Greenwich Mean Time was what the world reckoned with and it seems still will in many quarters.

The Greenwich team, now operating in rural Sussex, said the new time has little to do with them.

"For meteorology, navigation, al aids, ship to shore contact, and in many other areas Greenwich Mean Time will continue to be used," an official said. And one Scotsman forecast: "In Scotland we'll change our clocks when we choose."

Wakefield, the reconstructed birthplace of George Washington in Westmoreland County, Va., is a national monument. The original house was destroyed by fire and no description of it was to be found. A colonial house was built there, but no claims are made for its authenticity.

COMES THE REVOLUTION

By JOAN CROSBY
NEA Entertainment Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — A few years ago, Tim Conway made a joke about what would happen if his television series, McHale's Navy, wasn't renewed.

"We'll continue to make the shows and sell the episodes door to door," he cracked.

Today, it's not so funny.

A year ago, Norman Felton, an NBC producer and the executive producer of the recently demised The Man From U.N.C.L.E., predicted the day when people could go to a store as they go to a record store today, buy a taped cartridge, insert it in a television set and see a movie they have selected, at a time that is convenient to them.

Today, Dr. Peter C. Goldmark, president of CBS Laboratories, has developed EVR (Electronic Video Recording), which will make Felton's prediction a reality in the home within 24 months.

Home entertainment is in the throes of a revolution which makes the days when records went from 78 rpm to 45 and 33 look as simple as a change from standard time to daylight savings.

Today if you want to hear music you have a choice of: AM, FM or FM stereo radio, discs, reel to reel tapes, cartridge tapes and cassettes. You can have a tape recorder to make your own recordings. You can have, if you have the money (revolutions are always expensive), a video tape recorder which will, if you are out on the night a program you want to see is telecast, automatically make a copy of the program which you can play back through your television set.

You can make your own movies the traditional way, with a movie camera. But you can also buy a tape camera to make pictures which can be played through the TV set.

With the exception of the EVR system, not yet available to the public, all this is possible today if you have two things: the space to keep the components and the money to buy them in the first place. No major manufacturer, for instance, makes one piece of tape recorder, cartridge or furniture that houses a stereo phonograph, radio, reel-to-reel cassette, tape recorder and television set. You can buy any number of combinations, but if you happen to be someone who likes everything in one handy, attractive place, you are out of luck.

According to Jack K. Sauter, an executive vice-president of RCA Victor, the economics are not right for a unit that would include both types of tape handling systems. "The cost of the mechanical components for both types would push the retail price too high to be competitive," he says.

Despite manufacturer's claims that the storage of tapes is simple and consumes less space than record albums, personal use still favors albums. They may be larger, but you can get a lot of them into a small space on a shelf. Tapes, both reels and the smaller cartridges, take up more room.

The sound on tapes, however, is excellent. There is greater fidelity and the life of the tape is said to be longer than that of a record. With proper equipment, reel-to-reel tapes will play back and forth on both tracks until you decide to shut them off.

Possibly self-conscious of the many splendors of the tape is, one company has devised a new look for record playing. A Seeburg home audio unit, which can cost up to $1,500, stores 50 records in its player system and, with the use of a computerized memory, can play both sides of one or any of them, without human hands touching the records (after their insertion).

Portable equipment has been refined nearly to the point of perfection. But perhaps the thing that has given the biggest boost to the tape industry is the installation of cartridge players in automobiles. They offer excellent sound in cars, where the only sound before this came from an AM radio.

But experts still feel that for simple home use, and the best sound, records are still the answer.

VEGETARIANISM PROMOTED
BOMBAY, India (AP)—Vegetarianism is the answer to India's chronic food shortages, claims Mrs. Rukmini Devi Arundale, president of the Indian Vegetarian Congress. She told a meeting of her group more food is available from the land than through animals. Besides, she said, vegetarianism is a "better and nobler way of life" — even Americans are turning to vegetarianism to avoid excess calories and fat.

THE STEREO TAPE WAR is on. Three systems on the market today are, left to right, a Lear eight-track, a Fidelipac four-track and a Philips cassette.

TV NOTEBOOK

NEW YORK—(NEA)—He gives himself three or four more years in show business, then he plans to quit and become a teacher.

And you believe it because Bill Cosby, for all his success and Emmy award, is not the usual show business personality. He happens to be one of the most brilliant character comedians and one of the funniest men in show business, to say nothing of a dramatic talent that he has displayed in I Spy. But he also happens to be a man who likes to have fun in his work, who is, at the moment, not having fun in I Spy, and who cares deeply about seeing that youngsters in underprivileged areas know the importance of, and receive, a good education.

Bill is 28 credits from his Bachelor of Science degree and he has been in touch with Southern California to see about taking two courses a semester to get the degree. Then, before he teaches, he wants to earn a Masters and Ph. D.

"I want to teach only in a depressed area. The subject matter is not important as long as the kids get the message that they have to study. I wasn't interested in studying when I was a kid because it got in the way of my having fun. When I became a man, I suddenly realized I knew how to do absolutely nothing. It was the result of my not studying. So I took a high school exam and got a diploma and applied for admission to Temple University."

Bill's first special, The Bill Cosby Show, is set for NBC-TV on March 18. With the exception of two dance numbers, and an opening involving some kids from Philadelphia and a little girl musician, the show is all Bill telling those wonderful tales of his boyhood. NBC has an option for two more specials, and one of the sponsors of his first is very interested in continuing the relationship.

Meanwhile, he is busy with a five-minute, five-times-a-week radio show, and ad lib affair which he says is fun to do; personal appearances (he had two recent sell-out concerts at New York's Philharmonic Hall) and his new production company, CSC Productions, which has a deal to make five movies for Warner Brothers-Seven Arts release. Bill will appear in two of the five movies.

Whether I Spy continues after this season is not set, although he thinks they will probably make 13 more episodes, then wait for ratings. Whether or not the series continues, Bill is a sure bet to increase his popularity when he switches to movies. And you wonder if it won't be hard for him, four years hence when he is all of 31, to turn his back on this and quit to teach.

"Yes, it will be tough, but some things will help me to do it. If I'm not having fun, it won't be hard to quit. Show business is not the place to get ulcers. I would rather get them teaching."

Meanwhile, Bill goes home to Philadelphia often to see his family, he continues telling tales about Old Weird Harold ("who happens to be an alchemist") and Fat Albert ("who is now a policeman and not fat"), and coming up with pointed and memorable one-liners like his appraisal of most of the sex-and-

Hope Girls, Ashdown Favorites

By RALPH H. ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Hustling to their 13th win in a row, the Hope Lady Cats whipped the Joe T. Robinson Senators 58-46 Tuesday night in Little Rock.

Leading all the way in increasing their season mark to 21-4, the Lady Cats played basketball the way they knew how, much to the delight of a strong contingent of local fans who made the long trip.

Hope led 25-20 at halftime, but the locals poured on the pressure in the second half for the win. Carol Anthony led the Lady Cats with 25 points, and Gail Hartsfield had a good night with 23. Kathryn Coleman rounded out the scoring with 10 points.

Now the Lady Cats enter the District Championships with the exact record as the co-favorite Ashdown Pantherettes, both now 21-4. But a new announcement states that now, both teams in the finals will go to the state meet, instead of one as earlier said.

Last night in first-round action at Prescott in the 7-A tourney, the Prescott Sr. Girls ousted DeQueen 50-33 in a first-round game.

The win placed Prescott opposite the Lady Cats in the semifinal round, with that game to be played Friday night at 8:30 p.m. In the other bracket Ashdown plays the Gurdon and Nashville winner Friday at 6:30 p.m. Gurdon and Nashville will meet this evening at 7:30 p.m.

The Lady Cat games and possibly Ashdown's semifinal will be broadcast live over KXAR. However, your attendance and support of the Lady Cats is much needed, and the team appreciates every yelling fan on our side.

Concluding the fan's choice of basketball for the weekend are the Hope Bobcats, who hit the road for two conference games. The Cats head for Arkadelphia to battle the Badgers on Friday, and Saturday night the crew travels to Camden to meet the Fairview Cardinals. The "B" Lizards play the first game on both evenings, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Celtics Win First Game in New Garden

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics had little trouble winning the first basketball game played in the new Madison Square Garden — not nearly as much as they did getting into the building.

Player-coach Bill Russell said it took him and the rest of the Celtics 35 minutes to find their way to the dressing room.

As it turned out they had plenty of time, for the start of the game was delayed another 35 minutes while protective matting was put around the basket stanchions.

Once the whistle blew and the dust began to fly — Russell and Dave DeBusschere of Detroit said dust caused by work in the building made it hard to breathe — the Celtics rolled to a 118-96 victory over Detroit.

The New York Knickerbockers then beat San Diego 114-102 in the second game of the National Basketball Association doubleheader.

Probably the busiest man at the Garden was the public address announcer who had to keep giving the score and made frequent announcements of how much time was left. The scoreboard and clock did not work.

In the only other NBA game, Philadelphia drubbed Seattle 149-125.

Minnesota nipped Indiana 99-96, New York topped Oakland 121-110 and New Orleans beat Houston 106-97 in the ABA.

Boston put on a 20-4 spurt to erase a 13-point deficit and take a 53-52 halftime lead. Then after Detroit moved ahead 69-60 in the third quarter, John Havlicek and Bailey Howell sparked a 22-6 spurt that gave the Celtics an 82-66 lead and the game.

Havlicek led all scorers with 31 points, Jimmy Walker scored 19 for Detroit.

Three Knicks turned in 20-point plus performances as New York handed San Diego its 15th straight defeat, two short of the NBA record set by San Francisco in the 1964-65 season.

San Diego led 43-40 midway in the second period, and then

Phoenix Open Golf Meet Draws 144

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A field of 144 pro golfers took aim today at the $20,000 top money in the Phoenix Open Golf Tournament, while keeping one eye on the weather.

Rain, for the fifth day in a row, halted play for almost 30 minutes during Wednesday's pro-am tournament kickoff.

The 6,765-yard Phoenix Country Club course afforded players little roll on their shots and played longer than its official yardage.

The course's condition seemed to give the edge to the tour's longer hitters such as Jack Nicklaus and young Tom Weiskopf, $30,000 richer after his win in last week's Andy Williams San Diego open.

"It was wet and sloppy and gave you no roll at all," said defending champion Julius Boros. He predicted a nine-under-par 275 may win the tournament.

Five players tied for Wednesday's best score with a 68. Miller Barber, Lee Trevino, George Knudson, Chuck Courtney, Steve Opperman and Dan Sikes each won $358.

Indians Remain Unbeaten

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

You'd think the Brown Indians of St. Bonaventure, the nation's fourth-ranking team in college basketball, would be beaten if they blew an 11-point lead and lost big Bob Lanier on personal fouls. Not so.

The unbeaten Bonnies demonstrated their all-around balance with an 81-71 overtime victory over Seton Hall on the road at South Orange, N.J., Wednesday night. It was their 20th straight, 18 this season and a carryover of two from last year.

Lanier, star 6-foot-11 soph, fouled out with three minutes left in regulation time after scoring 21 points.

The Bonnies called time out and as Coach Larry Weise said later, "I just told the boys to look at the scoreboard." The Bonnies were ahead by only four points 59-55.

Billy Kalbaugh and Johnny Hayes rose to the occasion as the Bonnies pulled the game out. Kalbaugh scored the last eight St. Bonaventure points in regulation time which ended 69-63 and Hayes tallied seven of the first 10 Bonnies points in the overtime.

Hayes took over in the extra period after a three-point play by Bill Butler had put the Bonnies ahead for good in the first 20 seconds of the overtime.

"They don't need me, they can make it on their own," Lanier said afterwards.

In contrast to the Bonnies, the Duke Blue Devils, the only other team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action, enjoyed a 105-65 home court romp against Wake Forest. Big Mike Lewis led the 10th-ranked Blue Devils with 31 points and 29 rebounds.

It was the eighth straight defeat for Wake Forest and the Deacons' 10th loss in a row on the road. Duke's record now is 15-3.

Bowling Green, playing at home, beat Toledo 85-78 and took over first place in the Mid-American Conference. Walt Platkowski led the Falcons with 31 points, including the basket that put Bowling Green ahead for good at 49-47 early in the second half. Steve Mix led Toledo with 29.

Ron Guziak, held to just one basket in the first half, broke loose for 22 in the second to lead Duquesne to a 79-69 triumph over DePaul in Chicago.

In other road conquests, Davidson, led by Mike Maloy's 19 points and 23 rebounds, beat St. Joseph's, Pa., 66-60 in Philadelphia's Palestra and Western Michigan whipped the Detroit Titans 84-62.

Roger Strong's 21 points led George Washington to an upset 70-66 victory over Fordham at Arlington, Va., and Syracuse snapped a seven-game losing streak with an 83-66 home court conquest of Cornell.

Providence, also playing at home, beat Canisius 83-72 and Holy Cross edged Massachusetts 70-69 at Amherst as Keith Hockstein scored all of his 20 points in the second half.

Denver also won at home beating the Air Force 86-71.

Russia Not Digging Much Olympic Gold

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — The usually powerful Russians aren't digging their usual amount of gold, silver and bronze in the 10th winter Olympics, but there's no indication there will be a mass exile of athletes and trainers to Siberia.

The rest of the world is just catching up, says Igor Kazanski, vice president of the Soviet National Olympic Committee and vice chairman of Soviet sports, borrowing an old excuse from bourgeois America.

"It is a surprise when an Italian (Franco Nones) wins the 30-kilometer cross-country ski race," Kazanski said through an interpreter. "France, Italy and Holland are getting strong in those events—speed skating and Nordic skiing—that have been dominated by the Scandinavian countries and Russia."

"It is a reality we must face," he said. "The decline of Soviet power has been one of the features—and surprises—of this big ice and snow extravaganza which is moving into the home stretch. The Games end Sunday."

Four years ago at Innsbruck, the Russians captured a total of 20 medals, including 11 gold. Five were silver and four were bronze.

Through Wednesday night's pairs figure skating, their total was two golds, four silvers and two bronzes. They were assured of only one other gold—that in ice hockey.

Kazanski was an interested spectator Wednesday at the 500-meter speed-skating race at the outdoor rink adjacent to the futuristic Stade de Glace.

Two red-coated Olympic bunnies, who spoke Russian, were at his elbow for interpreting purposes. He talked glibly of the Russian sports picture.

Kazanski is a round little man who looks like a miniature Khrushchev. He is jowly with pink cheeks and a stubby nose. Like Khrushchev he has a sense of humor and is inclined to laugh heartily.

Any moment you expect him to take off an apres-ski boot and start banging it against the railing, but he doesn't.

Dressed in a fur hat, a gray parka and blue ski pants, he spent the day enthusiastically photographing the speed skaters as they crossed the finish line. He made a special effort to get Terry McDermott of Birmingham, Mich., who won a silver medal in the last race of the day.

"A courageous young man," he commented. Kazanski said he thought the South American Record Is Set

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — Carlos van der Maath of Argentina set a South American record for the 200 meters backstroke with a time of 2:17.4 Wednesday night in the South American Swimming Championships.

Soviet Union perhaps had relied too heavily on experienced veterans instead of going with younger, untried talent.

"Evgeny Grishin, you know, is 37 and Lydia Skoblikova is 28 and this is her third Olympics," he explained. "In four years, it is hard for an athlete to stay on top."

Grishin was once the world's greatest speed skater, winning three gold medals in 1956 and 1960. Miss Skoblikova had won six of the eight golds in women's speed skating prior to these games. Both competed, but failed to win a medal.

"We have many young athletes coming up," Kazanski said. "We hope to do better in 1972."

Another Russian official said he thought the team had reached its peak about two weeks before the Games and now was going downhill.

Kazanski shrugged. Asked why the Russians weren't good at Alpine skiing, the Soviet sports chief said Alpine skiing was just a social

Long Island Still Best Small College

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The pressure is getting heavy for Long Island University's unbeaten Blackbirds.
Coach Roy Rubin and his players are anxious to get a chance to duplicate the fabulous performance of Southern Illinois University last season.
The Salukis were the No. 1 team in The Associated Press' small college basketball ratings and then went on to win the National Invitation Tournament from a field of major college powers.

The Blackbirds would like to get into the NIT at the new Madison Square Garden. They know the invitation committee won't be able to ignore them if they wind up undefeated.

They squeezed by two more teams last week for a 16-0 record and maintained their strong grip on first place in the poll, based on games through last Saturday.

The Blackbirds had it tough topping Rider 55-32 and Hofstra 72-55.

Norfolk State, another all-winning team, lost to Delaware State, 129-103, but then was awarded the championship because Delaware State used an ineligible player. So Norfolk State now has a 17-0 record. Still, the team dropped from seventh to ninth place in the poll because of the first report.

Kentucky Wesleyan, third a week ago, took over the runner-up spot from Evansville by beating the Aces 87-78 in overtime.

LIU received 11 of the 15 first-place votes and 139 points in the balloting. Kentucky Wesleyan, 14-3, got one first place and 111 points. Evansville, 16-3, gathered 100 points.

The other members of the Top Ten, in order, were: Southwest Missouri State, McNeese State, Trinity, Texas, Southwestern Louisiana, Pan American, Norfolk State and Guilford.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, and total points through games of Feb. 10 on a 10-9-8-etc. basis:

1. Long Island U. (11) 139
2. Ky. Wesleyan (1) 111
3. Evansville 100
4. SW Missouri St. 77
5. McNeese State (1) 62
6. Trinity, Tex. 61
7. SW Louisiana 40
8. Pan American (1) 36
9. Norfolk State 30
10. Guilford 23

Wants G&F to Rescind Dog Ruling

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A resolution was adopted by the Arkansas Senate Wednesday asking the state Game and Fish Commission to rescind regulations against free running dogs.
Sen. Thomas Penn of Cave City, who proposed the resolution, pointed out that the resolution was not a criticism of the commission's policies.

The commission has forbidden free running dogs from April through July.

The resolution said the regulations should be rescinded "in order to protect the rural people of this state from constant and undue threat of arrest and prosecution."

Shipwreck Spot
More than 130 shipwrecks have occurred around the Falkland Islands in the South Atlantic Ocean because of the strong winds, which average about 25 miles per hour, and a lack of beacons.

Muskies Keep Winning Ways, Nip Indiana

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
No one's catching many Muskies—at least not the basketball variety—in Minnesota.

The Minnesota Muskies nipped the Indiana Pacers 99-96 Wednesday night for their 15th straight American Basketball Association victory at home.

Minnesota broke a 93-93 tie late in the fourth quarter with four straight points, and then after Indiana closed to 97-95, Mel Daniels clinched it with two foul shots with 16 seconds left. Les Hunter topped Minnesota with 26 and Daniels added 21. Freddie Lewis and Roger Brown scored 21 each for Indiana.

The victory moved Minnesota to within one-half game of idle, first-place Pittsburgh in the Eastern Division.

In other games, New Jersey trounced Oakland 121-110 and New Orleans downed Houston 106-97.

In the NBA, Boston drubbed Detroit 118-106, New York whipped San Diego 114-102, and Philadelphia thrashed Seattle 149-125.

Bruce Spragins scored 20 points in the first half as New Jersey raced to a 61-48 lead and then coasted to victory. Spragins finished with 34 points and teammate Mel Nowell added 28. Steve Jones got 19 for Oakland.

Jesse Branson broke a 40-40 tie with a basket late in the second quarter, and New Orleans never trailed thereafter. James Jones poured in 26 points and Doug Moe 25 for New Orleans. Willie Somerset paced Houston with 19.

Faubus Says He Won't Be a Candidate

HUNTSVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Former Gov. Orval E. Faubus announced Wednesday he would not be a candidate for political office this year, but Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said later he wasn't convinced.

Faubus, making the announcement in his weekly newspaper, said his reasons for deciding not to run were "strictly personal."

However, Rockefeller said he would wait until the filing deadline before he was convinced Faubus wasn't really a candidate for governor.

Laughing, Rockefeller said he cautioned his aides "against burying any paper (files)" that he had accumulated against the chance Faubus would become a candidate.

Rockefeller said he didn't know why Faubus said he wouldn't be a candidate. However, he said he thought Faubus "didn't look well and his old self" on a recent television interview.

Faubus defeated Rockefeller in the 1964 gubernatorial race, but Rockefeller said he had the experience of more than a year

Troop 91 of Hope held a court of Honor Monday night at Fair Park in the Scout Hut. Boy Scout Alan Foster gave the welcome address. Boy Scouts of Troop 91 held the Tenderfoot Investiture ceremony for new scouts Earl Foster and Lester Sizem. Bobby Joe Lee presented the Life to Dick Overturn.

Four year pens were presented to Explorers Steve Martin, Ronnald Volentine, and David Rowell of Washington. Scoutmaster Overturn presented the following merit badges: Public Speaking Alan Foster and Mark Gunter; Safety Alan Foster and Dale Comer; Cooking Alan Foster, David Huddleston; Nature David Huddleston; Firemanship Dale Comer; Personal Fitness: Roy Foster, Dick Overturn, and Mark Gunter; Coin Collecting Alfonso Roy; Dog Care Ronnie Volentine; Public Health Steve Martin; Soil and Water Conservation Mark Gunter; Swimming and Lifesaving David Ward. This Court of Honor was held in observance of the 58th Anniversary of Scouting. Roy Foster received a three year perfect attendance pen and Alfonso Roy a year pen.

A Nervous Guy, Lewis Likes to 'Drink' on Job

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Guy Lewis has an aunt who still runs a small store in Arp, Tex., population 812. It's where Guy comes from, in Smith County, down the road a piece from Tyler.

"Three, four years ago, my aunt came over to see us play in Fort Worth," recounts Guy. Although he has a degree from Houston, where he has coached the basketball team for the last 12 years, and wears psychedelic sports coats, when Guy says "aunt," it still comes out "and."

And he chews towels, while his team proceeds to an undefeated season and ranks No. 1 in the nation. Red and white polka dot towels.

"Night she came, though," continues Guy. "I had a plain white towel. And I'm kind of partial to the school colors (scarlet and white)."

"Next day, she took me over to this wholesale house in Dallas, and I saw just what I wanted. Towels that were red on one side, with white dots, and white on the other, with red dots."

Since that time, Guy has ordered his towels from the Dallas wholesale house, through his aunt in Arp, Tex. He gets them by the dozen. They cost $18 a dozen, and he runs through two dozen a season. When they're well-scuffed from handling, his student managers at the University of Houston personally wash them.

"It helps me," says Guy. "I've always used a towel on the bench—to chew on, wave it around or just plain hide behind it if we're not playin' good."

Lewis has another coaching crutch to sustain him during the tense action of a basketball game. He drinks water. An average game is 25 cups. Four years ago, when the Houston Cougars went into overtime with Notre Dame in the NCAA playoffs at Lubbock, he set a personal record.

"My manager," blushes Guy, "told me I drank 36 cups. My manager won't tell me what I drank against UCLA this year."

The UCLA game, in the Astrodome on Jan. 20, before the largest paid crowd ever to watch a competitive basketball game, projected Houston nationally as king of the college courts. The UCLA team, with Lew Alcindor, has been called the best college team ever assembled. The Cougars, with Elvin Hayes, won, which should result in a similar claim.

"I don't feel like we're the best team ever put together," demurs Lewis. "I feel like we're the best team ever in Texas."

If he were a professional Texan, a guy might think that amounts to the same thing. But Lewis is realistic. Three of his starters come from Louisiana. A fourth was plucked out of New Jersey. And the fifth, Ken Spain, he knew right from his junior high school days because Spain played with Guy's son, Vern, who is the sixth man on the current Houston varsity.

About the same time Guy discovered red and white polka dot towels, he located another brilliant find which had even greater impact on Houston's basketball program. Tom Moorehead, then the basketball coach at Texas Southern, a neighboring Negro school in Houston, came into Lewis' office one morning and said, "There's a kid across the state line I want you to know about. I can't get him, but I don't want him to go to Grambling or Southern University in my conference."

The boy's name was Elvin Hayes of Rayville, La.

"It was the first time I ever heard of him," admits Lewis, "because from Rayville, news only travels word of mouth."

Lewis had heard about Don Chaney, another fine Negro basketball prospect who went to high school in Baton Rouge. Hayes and Chaney arrived on campus together, enrolled the same day, the first Negroes to integrate Houston's athletic program. Warren McVea, a football player, followed shortly. Theodis Lee of Monroe, La., and George Reynolds of Newark, N. J., came along a year later. With home town boy Spain, a 6-9 giant, to help Hayes on rebounds and young Vern Lewis to steady the team when it starts playing ragged, the Houston coach had all the parts for a national championship challenger.

He also made sure to put in an early order for a fresh supply of red and white polka dot towels.

Campus Is Cleared to Avert Riots

SANTO DOMINGO (AP)—Officials averted more fighting between police and students at National University Wednesday night by clearing the campus after a shooting exchange in which one civilian was killed and three policemen were wounded.

The government warned that troops would move into the campus unless students involved in the clash gave themselves up. To dislodge an estimated 50 leftist students holed up in university buildings, it was agreed that students who passed a brief screening by university, police and government representatives would be allowed to go home. Police would then search the campus.

Half a dozen students were detained for failing to produce satisfactory identification.

The disturbance, most violent since President Joaquin Balaguer took office in July 1966, erupted after the government banned a student march in support of demands for more state subsidies for the university.

Morris Awarded Yachting Prize

NEW YORK (AP)—The late Everett Morris, a native of New Bedford, Mass., Wednesday was awarded the Nathaniel Herreshoff Trophy for 1967 for individual contribution to the sport of sailing by the North American Yacht Racing Union. Morris was dean of American boating writers at the time of his death last spring.

Soccer Match Goes Into Tie

VALENCIA, Spain (AP)—Valencia and Bayern Munich played a 1-1 tie in their first quarter-final match Wednesday in the Europe Soccer Cup of Champions.

Slav Plays Wins Chess Tourney

MALAGA, Spain (AP)—Yugoslavia's Dralen Marovic won the Sun Coast Chess Trophy here by defeating Stefano Tatai, Italy, in 32 moves. Bernard Zuckerman of New York finished in a tie for third with six points.

Life in Arkansas

By TOMMY YATES

Associated Press Writer
If you've ventured into the gallery of the Arkansas Senate during the special session of the legislature, you've probably noticed a lanky fellow sitting on a high stool with his face poked into a microphone.

John Harmon, 24, of North Little Rock is the reading clerk in the Senate. He eats lemon drops and drinks soft drinks throughout the day to keep his voice coming out strong and clear.

Harmon, who is waiting to take his bar exam after recently graduating from the University of Arkansas Law School, estimates he reads about 5,000 to 10,000 words a day that are contained in legislative bills, amendments, announcements and roll calls.

Here is an example, in part, of what Harmon reads hour after hour:

"A bill for an act to be entitled an act setting up... providing for... and for other purposes."

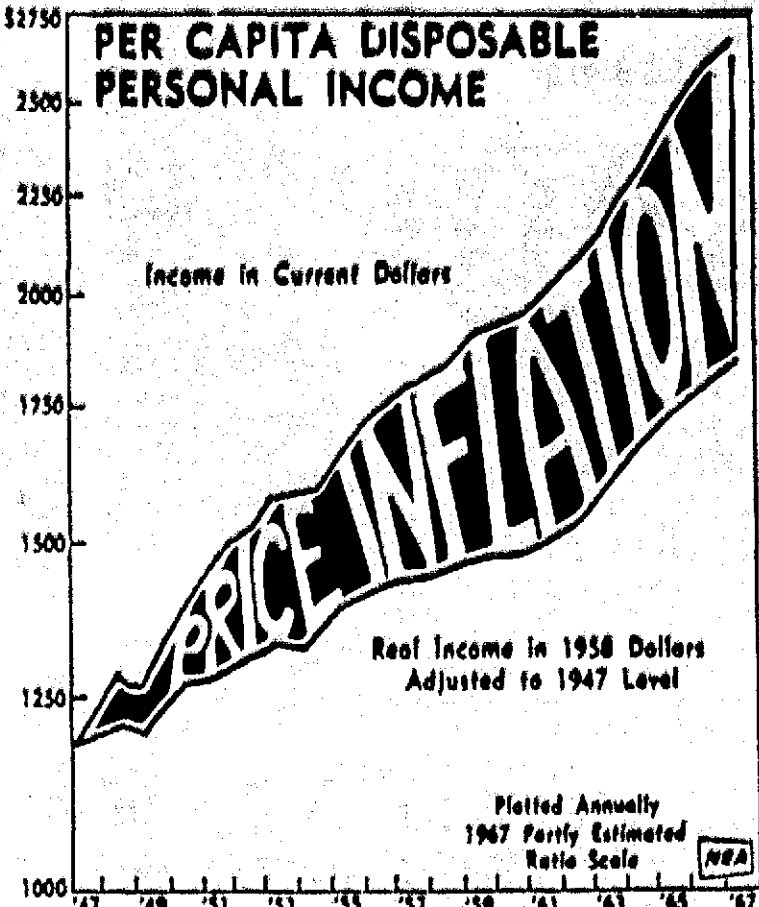

To the layman, much of the wordage may sound like a lot of double talk, but the phraseology is what makes it a must that the clerk keep a smooth tongue so no mistakes will be made in the reading.

The only mistake Harmon could recall he made was reading the word "distributed" when the word actually was "distributed."

Harmon said he never tried to hasten any action. "The presiding officer is the quarterback and I just follow his signals," he said.

"It's a job that allows you to see all parts of the legislative process except the committee meetings," Harmon said. He enjoys this because apparently he has political ambitions.

In fact, he ran for the House in the last general election, but

In the last 20 years, per capita disposable income has increased by 132 per cent, averaging just under 4.3 per cent annual growth. However, the chart shows that after adjustment for the depreciation in the dollar, the gain in real disposable income per capita has been 58 per cent over the last 20 years or an average growth rate of only 2.3 per cent. Figures are based on U.S. Departments of Commerce and Labor statistics.

College Merger Is Amended

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Senate Wednesday amended a resolution dealing with the proposed merger of Little Rock University and the University of Arkansas.

The amendment, which declared that the resolution was not to be intended as an expression in favor of the merger, required the Commission on Coordination of Higher Educational Finance to prepare budgets and programs on three other alternatives.

Senate Chaplain

Edward Everett Hale was a brilliant American clergyman who wrote more than 60 books. He was chaplain of the U.S. Senate for the last six years of his life.

He was defeated by Rep. Charles Matthews of North Little Rock. Harmon first began working in the Senate in 1963 when he served as a page for Sen. Clifford Wade of Fayetteville.

$300 Million Freight Hike Permanent

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission made permanent today a $300 million annual increase in railway freight rates.

The commission approved the hikes on a temporary basis last July 31 after the railroads asked for them as emergency measures designed primarily to meet higher labor costs.

In its 148 page decision, the ICC said today the interest of the public "and that of the national defense, in a sound, adequate and efficient transportation system will be adversely affected" unless the higher rate are continued.

The three per cent increase in the first general freight rate hike granted the railroads since 1960, the ICC said.

The railroads had sought increases estimated at $327.6 million annually.

Which Is Worse — Being Crooked, or Being Stupid?

The late W. C. Fields, juggler and caustic comedian, is best remembered for his line:

"You can't cheat an honest man."

It was a con man's defense that he couldn't get away with his fraud if it weren't for the fact that some people are so stupid they fail to recognize they have a bit of larceny in their own hearts—otherwise they wouldn't be trapped by a No. 1 Fast-Talking Guy.

You might even mount an argument that the stupid ones are worse than the crooks because they lead the latter into temptation. Am I getting "way out" on this? Hardly. Mine is the same thought exactly as the one expressed in advertisements for insurance companies urging you never to leave the key in your car—because it could be a temptation to some juvenile to turn to a life of crime.

You recognize, of course, the typical con game which W. C. Fields portrayed on stage and screen. The City Slicker goes to the Fall Guy with a proposition: There's a way to cheat a third person out of a big sum, which the conspirators will divide; but the City Slicker needs an advance from the Fall Guy as "earnest money." So the Fall Guy puts up the "earnest money," the City Slicker vanishes—and that's that. The Fall Guy can't even go to the police—for his complaint, on its very face, would put him in jail for attempted fraud.

I am reminded of this by an AP item in this morning's newspapers. A Baltimore federal grand jury has just indicted a man for selling "innocent purchasers" a box of "mink seeds" to grow mink coats.

How about that? We are asked to believe there are adults—so stupid they don't know how minks get their fur coats. That's not stupidity—that's humanity with a touch of mink and a very large dose of larceny.

Snow, Sleet, Rain Spread Over State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Snow accompanied by sleet and rain covered most of Arkansas today but moderate temperatures generally prevented hazardous road conditions around the state.

The State Police reported that no roads were closed, although some bridges in the Northeast Arkansas had light icing. The U.S. Weather Bureau reported that snow was tapering off in the state this morning. It began falling Wednesday morning.

Snow accumulations reported around the state at 6 a.m. today were mostly one inch, but Harrison and Walnut Ridge reported two inches.

Decreasing cloudiness is expected tonight and temperatures should be warmer Friday.

Low temperatures reported around the state this morning ranged from 27 degrees at Harrison to 32 at Fort Smith, Texarkana and El Dorado. Highs Wednesday ranged from 32 at Harrison to 35 at Fort Smith and Pine Bluff.

Precipitation reported around the state in the 24-hour period ending at 6 a.m. today included .26 at Little Rock, .07 at Fort Smith, .02 at Fayetteville, .11 at Harrison, .15 at Walnut Ridge, .09 at Memphis, .55 at Pine Bluff, .48 at El Dorado and .51 at Texarkana.

She Simply Walked Out

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — After being sentenced to 60 days for theft, Mrs. Freddie Mae Williams, 25, had one request.

"Your honor, may I get my purse?"

County Judge John Sanchez nodded his assent.

The waitress, who had been free on bond pending sentencing, walked back into the spectator's section, lifted her purse from the third row and kept walking briskly out the door.

With no sheriff deputies present, other court attaches stared in disbelief at the departing waitress.

Constitution Bills Get Attention

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas General Assembly faces a major task today in attempting to coordinate a pair of divergent constitutional convention bills passed Wednesday before sending one to the governor for his signature.

The House, which spent much of Tuesday in a battle between rural and urban forces, surprisingly passed its bill without dissent while the Senate was hard-pressed in gaining a 29-11 favorable vote on its measure.

In other major action Wednesday, the House attached 11 amendments to an administration bill creating a Department of Corrections, including a controversial provision to permit corporal punishment.

The House bill (HB78) setting up the procedure for calling a constitutional convention calls for the election of 100 delegates based on the 1967 House apportionment with the electorate accepting or rejecting the document in a special election in 1969.

The Senate bill also would provide for the election of 100 delegates.

China Shoots Down Stray U.S. Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says the U.S. Navy A-1 Skyraider shot down by Chinese MIGs Tuesday inadvertently strayed into Communist airspace because of navigational difficulties.

There was no immediate word on the fate of the pilot of the slow-flying, propeller-driven craft.

The pilot of a second Skyraider which escaped the MIG attack and fled to Da Nang, South Vietnam, had been damaged and said its pilot was unharmed.

Phil G. Goulding, assistant secretary of defense said the two Navy planes were about five miles from China's Hainan Island.

Red China, which claims a 12-mile water and airspace territorial limit, accused the United States of war provocations in a Peking Radio broadcast monitored in Tokyo.

Army Stockpiling Riot Control Equipment in Depots Across Nation

By GAYLORD SHAW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is stockpiling riot control equipment in strategically located depots across the country, officials said today, and is ready to airlift it to any city if civil disorders break out next summer.

Details of the military establishment's riot duty preparations were disclosed after sources reported the President's Commission on Civil Disorders is dissatisfied with the National Guard's performance in quelling last summer's violence, and is considering recommending creation of a specially trained federal riot-control force.

A commission source said the National Guard's effectiveness is limited by lack of proper training and by "the fact most of the Guard is lily-white." He said discussion of a special force has centered on whether it would amount to a national police force; whether it would be a regular Army unit; and at what point it would step into a disorder.

Army and National Guard officials said their planning has been extensive as well as diverse, ranging from obtaining maps of subway, sewer, water and electrical systems in potential trouble spots to preparing menus for mobilized national guardsmen. The North Carolina guard, for example, will have fish with tartar sauce for dinner on the third day if called out.

Strategy sessions have involved thousands of individuals, from the Pentagon's top brass to policemen on the beat.

BILL DENMAN

Denman Seeks 2nd Term as Prosecutor

Prosecuting Attorney Bill Denman Jr. has authorized the Star to announce his candidacy for reelection to the Eighth Judicial post. He released the following statement:

"In making my formal announcement for the Democratic Nomination for Prosecuting Attorney for the Eighth Judicial Circuit, my family and I again wish to thank the voters of the Circuit for their support in my successful race for this office two years ago, also I wish to thank the many people who have been so helpful and considerate to me during my first term in office.

"During my first term I have attempted to serve you as I would like to be served, in an impartial, courteous, honest and effective manner.

"As you know from news reports crime is on the increase. Further, the U.S. Supreme Court since the summer of 1966, has continually changed many of the former law enforcement procedures. Because of these two facts, I believe I am particularly qualified to again serve you as Prosecuting Attorney. By reason of my 19 years of law practice and because during the time of these swift changes in the criminal law, I have kept informed on these new problems, and have had to deal with them daily as they have arisen in my work as your Prosecuting Attorney. I feel that this enables me to fully and competently serve you as Prosecuting Attorney.

"I have cooperated fully with your various police and sheriffs in order that they and I could better serve you and I have tried to WASHINGTON (AP) Two senators who support administration objectives in Asia say public confidence is ebbing in President Johnson's handling of the Vietnam war.

Their assessments paralleled Gallup Poll findings that only 35 per cent of the people surveyed approve of Johnson's war strategy.

Sens. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., and Hugh Scott, R-Pa., who subscribe to the President's policy of opposing Communist aggression in Southeast Asia, said the people are disturbed because they can see no end to the war.

Byrd, who has called for stepping up the war to a winning pace, told the Senate Tuesday that in talking to more than 500 constituents during a recent tour, "I found deepening concern and increased dissatisfaction with the way the Vietnam war is being conducted."

He said Virginians support the troops sent to fight in Asia and "support our government in time of crisis, but increasingly they question the wisdom and judgment of our leaders."

Byrd called for a reappraisal of policies on the basis of widespread U.S. commitments he said make this country vulnerable in many areas, including Korea and the Middle East.

He said these "dramatize the need for the administration to develop a sense of urgency in bringing the Vietnam war to an honorable and early conclusion, which is not likely to be accomplished without a change in policies and procedures."

Scott told a student audience in Brookings, S.D., the people are frustrated "with an unpopular war to which no one sees an end" and by a "babble of solutions" that seemed likely to solve nothing at all.

Local Youths to Observe Nat'l FFA Week

Vocational Agriculture students in Hope High School will join Future Farmers of America members throughout the nation in activities to focus attention on the importance of agriculture during National FFA Week, February 17-24.

"Challenging Youth in Agriculture" is this year's theme. The message that these young agriculturists are trying to impart to the nation is simple. They seek to inform the public of the importance of the agricultural industry to America and to the world, the value of good citizenship development, and the role of Future Farmers of America in helping meet the challenges in world food production that faces America today.

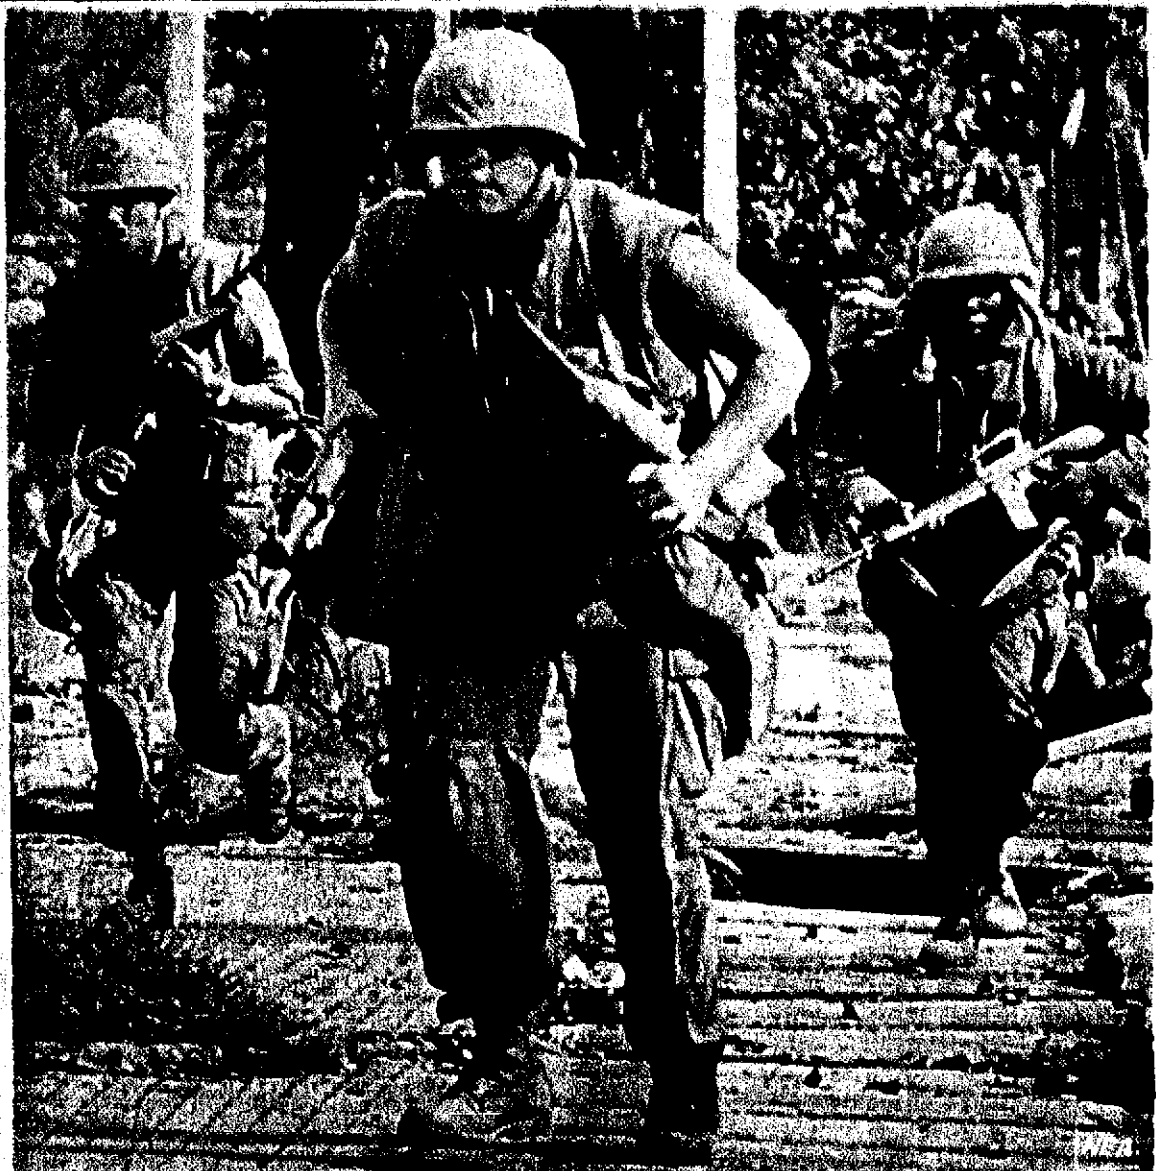

"Because of the many predictions of world hunger in the future, many people have stopped listening," said Troy W. Buck, vocational agriculture teacher and FFA advisor. "Now suddenly, the future is here! For the past seven years, our world has not been able to grow as much food as it has eaten. And, finally, the bottomless U.S. surpluses have melted away. Let us also

"Let us also point out," he added, "that it is estimated that the world as a whole will need 50 percent more food just two decades from now. Meeting these challenges will be in the hands of young agriculturists being trained and developed in such an organization as the FFA."

Membership in the FFA is made up of students of vocational agriculture in high school. The organization's activities are designed to help develop rural leadership and good citizenship to stimulate the students to better achievement in their study and work toward successful establishment in farming and other agricultural occupations.

The Hope FFA Chapter has 247 members. Officers are: Rocky Cummings, President; Jack Dougan, Vice President; Mike Voss, Secretary; Gary Golden, Treasurer; Sidney Hollis, Reporter; and Danny Key, Sentinel.

Latest Vietnam Peace Probing Is No Basis for Halt to Bombing House Vote Eliminates Lynn Davis

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The House approved today a bill requiring the State Police director to be a qualified elector after it was announced that former Director Lynn A. Davis would withdraw his name from consideration for the position if the measure passed.

Rep. James Sheets of Siloam Springs, sponsor of the bill, told the House without elaboration before the 85-11 vote that Davis would withdraw if the bill passed as amended.

"We will no longer refer to this as the Lynn Davis bill," Sheets said.

After the House voted on the bill, G. Thomas Elsie, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's legal aide, rushed into the governor's office and reported, "We've lost the Lynn Davis case."

Davis was not immediately available for comment. He was at Star City testifying before the Lincoln County Grand Jury investigating the discovery of three human skeletons at Cummins Prison Farm.

Rockefeller said he was "deeply disappointed" and that he would start immediately to look for someone to head the State Police. He said Davis had said he did not want the job if he had to take it under a legal cloud.

Henderson Orchestra Coming Here

The Henderson State College Symphony Orchestra will appear at Hope High School for one concert February 20.

The orchestra under the direction of Dr. Newel Kay Brown, will play a varied program including music by Gluck, Haydn, Strauss, Ives, Vaughan Williams, and Bernstein.

The arrangements for the orchestra were made by the Hope High School Music Parents Association as part of a season ticket concert series. Holders of the family tickets will be admitted to this concert without extra charge.

Individual tickets will be available at the door, adults $1.00 and students 50c. The orchestra will arrive in Hope about 5:00 p.m. for supper and then play the concert in the High School Auditorium at 8:00 p.m., February 20.

Hempstead County Singing Convention meets Sunday, Feb. 18, at 1:30 p.m. at Southside Baptist Church.

Another 400 Week in U.S. War Deaths

SAIGON (AP) — American casualties in the Vietnam war dropped slightly last week from the record toll of the previous week when the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese launched their countrywide lunar new year offensive.

The U.S. Command in its weekly summary today, said 400 U.S. military personnel were killed last week and 1,494 wounded. In the previous week, 416 American military men were reported killed and 2,757 wounded. The number missing or captured was not reported.

The command's reporting system apparently was still disrupted by the general offensive, for it said enemy and South Vietnamese government casualty figures for last week "are not available at this time."

For the previous reporting period, the week in which the Communist offensive was launched, the command issued a revised enemy casualty toll of 15,000 killed. The earlier report for the week had been 15,515 enemy dead, and both figures were far above the previous record for the war.

Of the 1,494 Americans reported wounded last week, 934 required hospitalization, the U.S. Command said.

The weekly summary said 70 members of other foreign allied forces were killed last week and 92 were wounded. Presumably most of them were South Koreans, the largest foreign group in the allied force after the United States.

U.S. Bombs Historic City of Hue

By GEORGE ESPEY
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marine jets bombed the massive brownstone walls of Hue's historic Citadel today for the first time in the 16-day struggle to crush the Communist attack in the former imperial capital. But there was no immediate word that the Leathernecks on the ground made any gains against the stubborn North Vietnamese holed up inside.

Over North Vietnam, two more U.S. planes were lost Wednesday as American warplanes hit the Hanoi heartland Wednesday with the heaviest strikes in six weeks. U.S. pilots said they pounded the vital Canal des Rapides bridge just outside Hanoi and two airfields with 3,000-pound bombs and knocked out four missile sites in the protective ring around the Communist capital.

The United States has now announced the loss of 790 American combat planes in the three years of air war against North Vietnam.

Another American plane—which the Pentagon said was unarmed—was shot down by Red Chinese over China's Hainan Island Tuesday night, and the U.S. Command reported earlier that American pilots shot down two Communist MIGs Wednesday northwest of Hanoi.

Other U.S. Air Force fighters joined American ground troops, army helicopter gunships and artillery 13 miles northwest of Saigon in a massive attack on a Communist force caught in the open this morning. A sweep of the area after the battle produced 127 enemy bodies, the U.S. Command reported.

AP photographer Al Chang reported from Hue, the former imperial capital 400 miles northwest of Saigon, that the Marine bombers dived down on the walls of the former palace grounds trying to clear the way for U.S. Marine assault troops advancing with tear gas.

The American jets entered the battle for the Citadel for the first time Wednesday but used only napalm and rockets on the North Vietnamese positions along the 6-foot-thick stone walls in an effort to minimize damage to historical and architectural treasures inside the compound.

Successes May Speed More Flights

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Recent successes in America's man-to-the moon drive may permit the space agency to squeeze in three manned Apollo flights this year, with the first launch perhaps two months sooner than scheduled.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration's announced schedule calls for astronauts Walter M. Schirra Jr., Donn F. Eisele and Walter Cunningham to ride the first manned Apollo moonship into earth orbit in the "last quarter" of this year, meaning no sooner than October.

Unofficially, however, sources say the flight could occur much earlier, perhaps August. They point out that current schedules call for the spacecraft to arrive at Cape Kennedy toward the end of March. The planned launch preparation time is about four months.

The success of America's second Saturn 5 superrocket launching, now scheduled for March 21, plus some key administrative decisions to be made in the next few weeks by NASA planners will determine whether the Schirra-commanded mission is in fact moved up and whether two manned Saturn 5 flights are attempted this year.

Navy Capt. Schirra, Air Force Maj. Eisele and Cunningham, a civilian, will be orbited by a Saturn 1 rocket, a smaller booster than the Saturn 5 which will be used to launch men to the moon.

The official schedule now includes another Saturn 1 launching this spring for a second unmanned test of a lunar module, the craft that will ferry astronauts between the moon's surface and an Apollo command ship in lunar orbit.

ample space to fit standard furnishings have enough closet storage areas for linens and cleaning supplies as well as clothing. There are two baths adjacent to the larger bedrooms.

The L-shaped kitchen features good counter working space. Revolving shelves in the corner space of the base cabinet give additional storage.

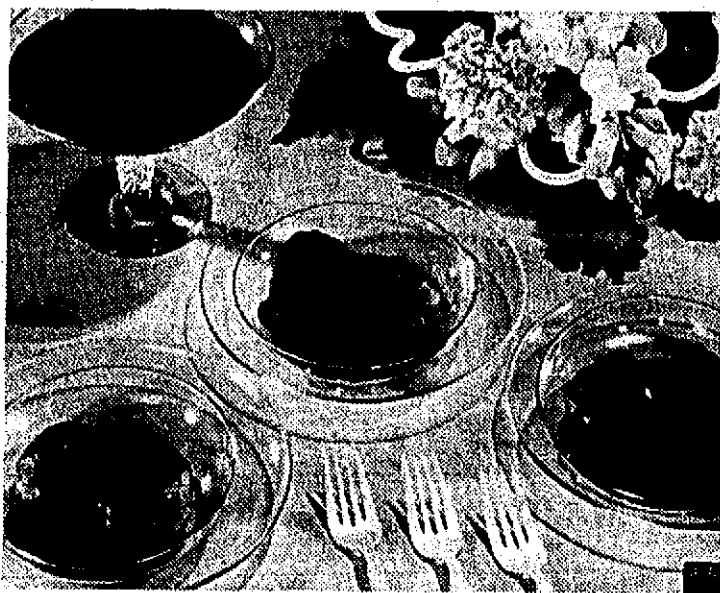

Since entrance to each room is from the center hall, traffic is kept to a minimum. The entrance from the carport to the kitchen is convenient for bringing in groceries and household supplies.

Other modern features include:

desk in the kitchen placed in a handy spot to help the homemaker in her recordkeeping, meal planning and telephoning; fallout shelter for six persons; workshop or storage room; and a covered walk from the carport to the front entrance of the house.

The floor area of this plan is well within the limits set by the Farmers Home Administration for construction plans. Complete working drawings of Plan No. 647606 may be obtained, free of charge, from your local County Agricultural Extension Office located in the Hempstead County Courthouse. February Favorite

"Fritter" away February with an unusual dessert to surprise your guests at a Valentine gathering or a holiday birthday celebration. Crisp Cherry Fritters mingle tart red cherries with nourishing Kellogg's All-Bran for a gala dessert. Hostess hint: hold the first fritters in a very slow oven (250°F.) while you fry the remaining batter. For a subtle flavor accent, add a hint of grated nutmeg to the hot Cherry Sauce.

Cherry Fritters with Cherry Sauce

- | | |
|--|--------------------------------|
| 2½ cups (1 lb. 4 oz. can) pitted sour cherries | ¼ cup sugar |
| ¼ cups sifted regular all-purpose flour | 1 egg, slightly beaten |
| 2 teaspoons baking powder | ½ cup milk |
| 1 teaspoon salt | 2 teaspoons shortening, melted |
| | ½ cup Kellogg's All-Bran |
| ½ cup sugar | 1 tablespoon cornstarch |

Drain cherries, reserving juice and about ¼ cup of the cherries for sauce; set aside. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Combine egg, milk, cooled shortening and All-Bran; let stand until most of moisture is taken up. Add sifted dry ingredients, stirring until smooth. Stir in cherries. Drop by tablespoonsful into hot deep fat (375°F.). Fry until golden brown, about 3 minutes. Drain on absorbent paper.

To make sauce, add water to cherry juice to make one cup liquid. Combine sugar and cornstarch in small saucepan; stir in cherry juice. Cook until thickened and clear, stirring constantly. Stir in cherries. Serve with Cherry Fritters.

Yield: 8-9 Servings, 2 Cherry Fritters each.

Small Children Perish in Fire

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two small children perished Wednesday when fire destroyed their four-room home here.

The victims, Jerry D. Howard, 2, and Pamela Howard, 1, were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Howard of Little Rock.

Deputy Sheriff Roy Hall said the children were alone in the house after their parents had gone to work. Hall said relatives who live in the area had planned to come by and take care of the children.

Hall said he saw smoke as he was patrolling, but that by the time he arrived the house was engulfed in flames. Cause of the fire has not been determined.

England exports 20 varieties of pedigree cattle, sheep, pigs and farm horses for breeding purposes.

Priority on Plan to Oust G&F Members

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Jimmy H. Hawkins, chief clerk of the Arkansas Supreme Court, said Wednesday that the court had given priority to the appeal of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's plan to oust some members of the state Game and Fish Commission.

The appeal stems from a lower court decision that the governor cannot hold a special panel hearing on his charges against certain commissioners. Neither the charges nor the commissioners have been named.

Rockefeller recently petitioned the high court for an early hearing and the commissioners had no objection. The case could be decided early next month.

TONS OF REFUSE piled up on New York City streets will take a week to clear with after Gov. Rockefeller imposed a settlement which was denounced by Mayor Lindsay.

Obscenity Is Next Target of U.S. Court

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The nine Supreme Court justices, average age 64, are in the process of deciding which portions of the human anatomy are of "moral interest" to boys and girls. Although this takes some mind-reading, the task shouldn't be especially difficult. Mini-skirts aside, youngsters haven't changed that much over the years. More difficult will be deciding if such sights are too rich for young blood—and finding a course of action at least five of the nine justices can agree on. The court's excursion into obscenity law in recent years, while not exactly deft, has made it obvious that virtually any racy material that isn't outright hard-core pornography cannot be kept from adults. Providing, of course, the publisher doesn't make Ralph Ginzburg's mistake and allow the "leer of the sensualist" to permeate his advertising. From "Fanny Hill" to "Lust Pool," from girly magazines like "Swank" and "Sir" to homosexual magazines from Denmark, the court has stayed the censor's hand. But while so doing, it also has dropped broad hints that it would be receptive to laws designed to keep such material from the young. For instance, Justice William J. Brennan Jr., in a 1964 ruling, said "We recognize the legiti-mate and indeed exigent interest of states and localities throughout the nation in preventing the dissemination of material deemed harmful to children." In fact, Brennan recommended state and local authorities consider laws "aimed specifically at preventing distribution of objectionable material to children." Chief Justice Earl Warren, in the same case, spoke of material that would be "offensive under most circumstances but, at the same time, 'obscene' in the extreme when sold or displayed to children." And last May, a curious statement appeared in an unsigned decision by the court throwing out a batch of obscenity convictions. In none of the cases, "it went, 'was there a claim that the statute in question reflected a specific and limited state concern for juveniles.'"

A New York state law and a Dallas ordinance now before the court reflect this special concern. The New York law, enacted in 1965, prohibits sale of "harmful" material to boys and girls under 17. And it attempts to set forth precisely the kind of "nudity" and "sexual conduct" that would appeal to an adolescent's "moral interest."

The Dallas ordinance, enacted the same year, gives a nine-member board of censors authority to classify movies as "not suitable for young persons." This means a youngster under 15 unless accompanied by parents or spouse. In a little more than two years a total of 580 movies have been so classified. Many are what the trade refers to as the "lewdy nudes." Others are more conventional film fare, such as "Never on Sunday," "Love With a Proper Stranger" and "Goldfinger."

If at least five justices decide the First Amendment leaves room for such selective censorship these laws are apt to multiply. The pacificuna, a cross between the vicuna and alpaca, yields a scant two pounds of wool a year, but that's four times that of a pure vicuna.

Workers Tell the Truth, Are Punished

WASHINGTON (AP) — After 16 months of inactivity, two State Department employees start new jobs today following congressional charges they had been punished for telling the truth.

In announcing that Harry M. Hite and Edwin A. Burkhardt would begin new assignments, the State Department said the switch in jobs had been in the works "some time."

Just a few hours before that announcement, several Congress members charged Wednesday the men were punished for telling the truth. In announcing that Harry M. Hite and Edwin A. Burkhardt would begin new assignments, the State Department said the switch in jobs had been in the works "some time."

ty truthfully." Sen. John J. Williams, R-Dele., said the men were isolated solely because they testified in the Otepka case.

Rep. H.R. Gross, R-Iowa, told the House: "Heads should roll" for the way Hite and Burkhardt were treated.

Regional Ozarka Meet Scheduled

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The Ozark Regional Development Association meets here Saturday to hear progress reports from its directors in Arkansas, Oklahoma and Missouri. B. G. Hendrix, executive director, said that even though federal money was not available to implement plans for development, the association was still laying plans for various projects so that they would be ready when money became available.

"We don't support any tax measure to carry on our program," Hendrix said, added that the association realized there was a virtual freeze on money for such projects.

Will Study Agri College Transfer

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A resolution calling for a feasibility study on the possible transfer of the College of Agriculture at the University of Arkansas to Arkansas State University was introduced in the House Wednesday.

The resolution is by Reps. Jack Oakes of Augusta and Jerry Bookout of Jonesboro. It said agricultural activities in Arkansas had changed from Northwest Arkansas to the eastern part of the state and that Oakes and Bookout believed the agricultural economy would be best served by relocating the college at ASU.

The resolution asks that the Commission on Coordination of Higher Educational Finance conduct a study, including proposed plans, programs and budgets for transferring the college.

Celery: Versatile, Flavorful Food

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food Editor

Many Americans have never braised celery. It is very good. Many others have not used celery as a main ingredient in a salad. That is fine, too. So let's take some of that pascal celery now growing in Florida (the other half comes from California) and try this recipe.

CELERY, SPINACH SALAD
 1/2 pound fresh spinach, torn
 8 cups sliced celery, cut diagonally
 1/2 pound mushrooms, sliced
 Horseradish Dressing

Tear spinach into bite-sized pieces. Combine spinach with celery and mushrooms in salad bowl. Toss gently. Toss with horseradish dressing. Serve with baked fish or roast pork.

HORSERADISH DRESSING
 1/2 teaspoon powdered mustard
 1 cup sour cream
 1 cup milk or cream
 1 tablespoon horseradish sauce

Salad of celery, spinach, mushrooms

1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon sugar
 1/16 teaspoon ground white pepper
 Mix powdered mustard in

1/2-teaspoon warm water. let stand 10 minutes for flavor to develop. Add to remaining ingredients. Mix well. Use on salad. refrigerate remainder. Eight servings
